PostPaint is a professional paint application. Q: AJAX doesn't load with data from controller I'm trying to load data from controller to view in my cshtml page. I have a weird thing, it takes some time to load. I think it because it load data from controller, but I need on client side to control this process. Here is controller:

public JsonResult Json(int id) { var result = from t in _context.MyClasses where t.Id == id select new { t }; var data = result.ToJson(); return Json(data); } View: $(function () { $.ajax({ url: "../MyController/Json", type: "GET", success: function (data) { alert(data); } }); });

 It doesn't alert. When I alert(data.length) it alerts 1 element in d0c515b9f4

A: Compare your answer to this answer. I'm not sure why your answer is allowed, but no answer from the other site is. Q: Javascript, convert variable to string i know the title is quite strange but i don't know how to ask it :) i have a variable that is returned as a string. i would like to convert it to just a string so it could be evaluated. if it wasn't for the variable value, it would be just

var mystring = "string";
```

```
var mystring = "array[3][0][0]['text']"
```

 should be:

```
var mystring = "array[3][0][0]['text']";
```

 now when i evaluate the variable value i get the error, Uncaught SyntaxError: Unexpected number i've tried eval() but it seems to fail. A: Just use this:

var mystring = "array[3][0][0]['text']";
```

 eval is for evaluating code. A: You are using the variable as string instead of using the string as a variable.

var mystring = "array[3][0][0]['text']"
```

 should be:

```
var mystring = "array[3][0][0]['text']"
```

Mike Pompeo met on Monday to try and resolve problems surrounding the stalled U.S. Embassy move to Poland. According to Szijjarto, Trump's administration wants the U.S. embassy back on Polish soil by October. "The two sides also discussed the importance of forging a more effective and efficient U.S.-Hungarian security cooperation at the bilateral and multilateral levels. They also discussed ways to sustain the positive momentum of cooperation in the area of the rule of law and judicial reform, and contribute to regional stability," the ministry said in a statement. Szijjarto and Pompeo met in Washington, D.C. Szijjarto was the first top Hungarian government official to visit Washington since the new U.S. administration took office. The foreign minister met with Vice President Mike Pence on Saturday,
